Message

It gives me immense pleasure to know that Society for Advancement of Science & Social Environment is going to publish a souvenir book on the occasion of SASSE Award Ceremony on 31st March, 2024.

Science is a miracle that happens on the streets of the world everyday. Strangely we have the misconception of viewing the discipline of science only in the laboratories or in the mathematical formulae. The sports on the street and the study of volume as observed by the pot maker is equally, if not more, nuanced than a geometry teacher or a scientist of chemistry in a celebrated University. By recognising the everyday nature of science we allow people to see life and scientific curiosity as a way of being rather than a thing that they may only find in books.

I would like to offer my best wishes to the Society for Advancement of Science and Social Environment to have organized an event that will become a platform where society and science comes together. I wish that the eminent winners of these awards offer their services to popularize science for the masses. I would also like to place my trust in the society to facilitate the growth of science in any manner possible.

It is a matter of great joy that you all are organizing this event, I wish you all success for the same.
